PILFERED PARAGRAPHS.

The railroad companies are very foolish in opposing this rate bill and the Senate is equally foolish in trucking to the railroad interests. The people will not endure this sort of betrayal much longer. The defeat of the Hepburn measure, unsatisfactory as the bill may be, would do more to help along the movement for Government ownership than anything that has yet occurred.

Another result would be a strong demand for a National Constitutional Convention, to take away from the Legislatures the power to choose United States Senators, and to provide for their election by direct popular vote.

Before a convention of negroes at Macon, Georgia yesterday, called to discuss racial problems, Bishop H. M. Turner called the American flag a "dirty and contemptible rag," and said Hell is an improvement on the United States, so far as the negro is concerned.

The manner in which these sentiments were received by the convention is not told in the dispatcher. But if the Bishop had been trying to find a way to alienate from the Southern negro the sympathy of the North and West, he could not have done better.

If there are any negroes in the South, or elsewhere, who think Hell an improvement on the United States the sooner they emigrate there the better for all concerned.

An item in the Fortifications bill, calling for a naval station at Subig Bay in the Philippines, at a cost of $10,000,000 or $15,000,000, to begin with, has naturally aroused discussion and strong objection in the House of Representatives. Members well say that until the policy of the United States with regard to the future of the Islands is settled, it is not wise to make such heavy outlays.

At the present rate of expenditure the Nation will have so much money invested in the Philippines before many years that there will seem to be a stronger reason than ever for holding them.

Of course there are all sorts of specious reasons for spending more good American money on this bad bargain. Thus, it is argued that a naval station must be had for the big drydock now being towed to the Islands. That seems a little funny, but yet it appears there is no good spot for the dock to tie to.

How unfortunate is it that when the chance was offered we did not take the advice of the Congressman who recommended that we "drop the Philippines and run."
